Our School Serves

The schools of our nation have an important role—that of developing in us, the boys and girls of our nation—the mental, emotional, and spiritual qualities that are essential to individual happiness and responsible citizenship. In this way they hope to help us work toward a truly democratic society in our own nation and a world society based on freedom, justice, and mutual respect. In performing this task each of our schools is serving our nation.

—by teaching the arts.

—by teaching moral and spiritual values.

—by teaching citizenship.

the Nation

We wish to show, through the pictures and literary descriptions in this yearbook, how our school, Junior One, has served the nation by teaching us . . . about today's world, the fundamentals of education, the arts, moral and spiritual values, citizenship, health, science, and vocational skills.

—by teaching health.

—by teaching science.

—by teaching vocational skills.

To Our Beloved Principal

Mr. Claude B. Kleinfelter

whose ideals and standards served as an inspiration to us and whose citizenship, sportsmanship, boundless energy and zeal created a contagious atmosphere of interest and enthusiasm which will always be remembered as the dynamic spirit of Mr. Kleinfelter—the spirit of Junior One—we dedicate our yearbook.

Claude B. Kleinfelter

Miss Lemke, our school nurse.

Miss Brilliantine, our vice-principal, with Miss Dorey, Mrs. Shuman, Miss Combs, Mrs. Bresner and Mr. Fiorentino, the class and guidance advisors.

Administration

We were aided on the way to successful living by the wise and patient efforts of the administrators and teachers of our school. Providing us with educational opportunities, they led us on the search for new knowledge. They encouraged us in our studies and stimulated us to do our best work so that we might develop our individual talents and thus contribute to a better world.

The Christmas party for faculty members and their children.

Mr. Clark, our school custodian, and Jack Swain, a member of his staff.

Our parents in a friendly visit to our school.

and Faculty

They provided us with conditions for wholesome play that will add to our social experience and happiness. They helped us to understand the rights of others and at the same time respected our right to be ourselves. By inspiring us to higher goals and by instilling in us the sense of responsibility that will help make us better citizens, they have truly served our nation.

Our school secretaries, Miss Evans, Miss Mellor and Miss McDonough.

Our cafeteria staff.

Dalba B. Brilliantine

Our Vice Principal

The efficiency and smoothness with which our school was directed this year was the result of the hard work of our very capable vice principal, Miss Brilliantine, who shouldered the burdens of administration in Junior One during the extended absence of our principal, Mr. Kleinfelter.

We, the class of 1953, feel privileged to have completed our last year in Junior One under her leadership. Her pride in our school, energetic efforts, and valuable advice were sincerely appreciated by everyone. In our need for understanding and guidance we found in Miss Brilliantine a true friend. We shall always remember with pleasure our ninth grade year under her guidance.

We also wish to thank Dr. Loser and Dr. Robinson for their helpfulness and continued interest in the problems of our school.

Our Ninth Grade Officers

Democracy in action in our Ninth Grade election

Graduates

As graduates of Junior One we have reached one of our immediate goals. Enriched by our many experiences in our classrooms and activities, and proud of our achievements, we are, nevertheless, aware of the many new challenges awaiting us. We are ready to face new horizons of learning, for we realize that we shall be wholly responsible for our future and that we shall play an important part, as leaders of tomorrow, in the future of our country.

Learning more about our democracy in a social studies class

We appreciate the knowledge, help, and understanding given to us by our teachers, the many opportunities and enjoyments we have had in our participation in activities and sports here in Junior One, and the responsibilities of leadership entrusted to us. We hope to justify the faith placed in us by fulfilling our rights and duties as good citizens in high school and in our community.

An eager group ready for a visit to the Naturalization Court

The eighth grade officers

Undergraduates

Together with our seventh and eighth grade classmates we participated in many useful and enjoyable extra-curricular activities which were as much a part of our education as the classroom itself.

Through many activities offered to us in Junior One we developed our hobbies and gained new cultural interests, thereby learning how to use our leisure time more wisely.

The merry singing of choir members around the Christmas tree

The seventh grade council

and Activities

Other activities provided us with experiences which had definite vocational values. In offering our services as patrol or student council members, and in working and planning together for assembly programs, our annual spring show, our school drives, and our student publications, we gained a sense of civic responsibility and learned to appreciate the meaning of loyalty and duty.

Our school Christmas play and the true meaning of Christmas.

Scholarship and

Our School Patrol

Our school patrol included over 70 boys and girls who served our school by promoting safety at all times in the halls, at the street corners, and on the playgrounds; by aiding in the cafeteria, and by encouraging and inspiring good citizenship in each of their class mates. The faculty director of this fine group was Mr. Price.

The patrol officers were James Link, Ronald Matlack, Willie Brown, Joseph Lenarski, Joseph Gibilisco, Arthur Horton, John Murphy, Alton Christie, Ervin Johnson, Robert Barber and Mike Amantio.

National Honor Society

Through the efforts of Miss Combs, a chapter of the National Honor Society was formed in our school last year. Members are chosen for their qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The goal of each chapter is to promote these qualities in fellow students.

This year our Society presented a special assembly program to explain these qualities, to encourage scholastic achievement, and to make better citizens of every member of our school.

Ninth Grade Members

Nancy Byrne, Joyce Hochreiter, Katherine Hodges, Patricia Laird, Judith Pulen, Angelina Skopelitis, Rocco Maruca, Sylvia Whittle, Dover Downing, Robert Norton, Gale Kelso, Marianne Aversano, Janice Call, Jackie Castaldo, Maria Sciarrotta, Phyllis Severino, Laurelee Steward, Ann Vecchiolla, Sam Castranova, Barbara Coleman, Joseph Arnane, James Jackson, Lenora McCoy, Judith McQuillan, Alice Fink, Marjorie Pfeiffer, Shirley Pitman, Robert Ellingsworth, Geneva Canty, Maileene Mule, Pinkie Washington, Decca Vasta, Jean Buttice, Annette Cramb, Loretta Kolendorski, Josephine Vizzini, Felicia Winowicz, Constance Slowinski, Krista Uudna, Maria Dupp and Barbara Moon.

Service . . .

Our Student Council

Seventh Grade Representatives: Marie Schifano, John Hardwick, Yvonne Benjamin, Frank Musteral, John Rath, Dennis Cox, Christine Giles, Lawrence LaBue.

Eighth Grade Representatives: Joan Pinton, Patricia Davis, Etelvina Moore, Lucy Arnone, Dominic Ciccone, Gloria Barkholz, George Molder, Regina Zuccarello, Russell Kaminsky, Julia Harrison.

Ninth Grade Representatives: Mike Amico, Jean Cacciatore, Alice Fink, Patricia Laird, Ernestine Morrison, Marie Norton, Virginia Varone, Gloria Wszolek.

The Student Council, composed of representatives elected by each homeroom class, is an important and very active service organization in our school. Its purposes are to support our school and its activities, to promote good citizenship, and develop leadership. For the past two years our council has been enrolled in the National Association of Student Councils.

Among the projects undertaken this year by this fine group, which was guided by Miss Dorety, were compiling a scrapbook of all Junior One newspaper publicity, selling candy after school, conducting the sale of basketball tickets, selling basketball pins, and sponsoring two after-school movies. A welfare committee, consisting of council members, was formed this year to send appropriate greeting cards to members of our school.

Members of the council are often seen in the office sending get well wishes to classmates or working on the school scrapbook.

Mr. Read, principal of Junior Two, and Miss Brilliantine congratulate the Student Council officers after the installation ceremony.

"THE HEADLINER" Staff

Marianne, Jackie and Rocky talk over items of school interest for "THE HEADLINER".

Every issue of our school newspaper, "THE HEADLINER," was eagerly awaited by the student body, for the staff of eager and willing members was always ready to include items of school news and feature articles interesting to everyone.

Congratulations to the staff and to the advisors for a fine school newspaper!

Our Orchestra

Our Orchestra provided us with many happy hours of musical entertainment, this year, playing for our assembly programs, for our school show, "Annie Get Your Gun," and "The Spring Music Festival". A group of Orchestra members also formed a band to play at our basketball games and school dances.

Talent, training, many hours of practice in and outside of school hours, and the fine leadership of Mr. Majeski, assisted by Mr. Leefelt and Mr. Almond, combined to bring personal satisfaction to this outstanding musical group and a great deal of enjoyment to our school.

Virginia Nelson and Esther Adamson were our school organists.

Bob Norton, Jack Maher, Chester Lucido and Sam Castranova had a small band of their own.

Our Senior and

Our senior choral groups were two very active organizations in our school this year. They spent many hours training for the beautiful choral work that gave us so much pleasure. Their singing in our annual "Spring Music Festival" was especially commendable. The Senior Girls' Chorus was very capably directed by Miss Snyder, and the Senior Boys' Chorus was under the able supervision of Mr. Majeski.

Junior Choral Groups

Our junior choral groups were thoroughly trained this year to follow in the footsteps of their upper classmates. The two groups were made up of seventh and eighth graders who had singing ability and interest. Under the leadership of Miss Snyder, the Junior Girls' Chorus and the Junior Boys' Chorus participated in all of our important musical programs.

"Annie Get Your Gun"

A colorful and impressive dance unfolded for us a story from the "Arabian Nights"

We shall always remember the revolving fountain in the beautiful ballet number

Our stage came alive with all the color and drama of America's West in the days of Buffalo Bill Cody, when on March 13 and 14 the curtain rose on our annual spring show, "Annie Get Your Gun"!

It all started back in December when our faculty members selected this play which had met with so many favorable notices both on Broadway and in Hollywood. It was then that the work began. Scenery was planned and constructed; costumes were sewed; publicity posters were drawn; and the sale of tickets was promoted by two school teams in competition.

Finally the big nights arrived. As a result of the hard work and the united effort of every member of our school, a sparkling and entertaining performance was enjoyed by the audience that fully packed our auditorium both nights. Our school show was without a doubt one of the finest examples of school co-operation. Everyone had worked for success; everyone enjoyed success.

Long will we remember the beautiful scenery, the Irving Berlin tunes, the western outfits, the unique dances and, of course, characters like Annie, Frank Butler, Dolly Tate, Charlie Davenport, Little Jake, and many others.

We offer our congratulations to our school for a job well done!

Jackie Castaldo, our excellent student director, chats with Theresa Alessi, who gave a perfect performance as "Annie" and Joe Manze, who portrayed "Frank Butler" so well

Our cheerleaders with cheers for our team.

Our school and city intramural basketball champions.

Sports

The varsity and class teams in Junior One have won many championships in the past. During the present year our Varsity Soccer Team won the city soccer championship, and our Varsity Basketball Team ranked second in junior high school competition. In the intramural contests for eighth and ninth grade class basketball teams, Classes 86 and D2 became city champions.

Catchers and pitchers in a moment of relaxation.

Coach Price and a team of attentive boys.

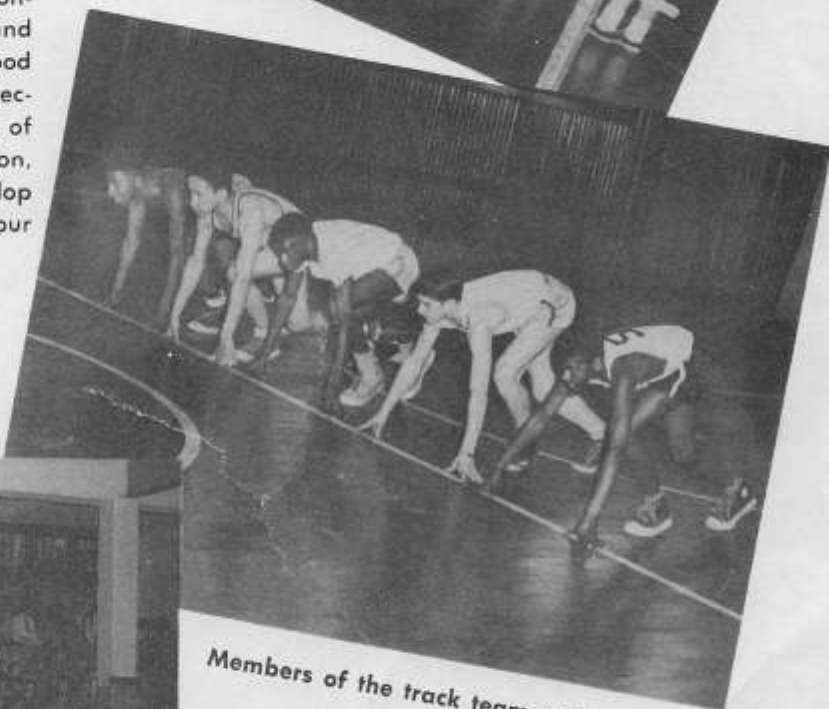

Our school intramural soccer champions.

The girls in competitive action.

However, the training of athletes to win championships was not the primary objective in our school program of sports; for, although we were given the opportunity, not all of us competed in athletic contests. The purpose of our physical education and health classes was to teach us how to maintain good health and physical fitness. As participants or spectators in games and sports, we learned the values of fair play, good sportsmanship, team co-operation, and school spirit, all of which will serve to develop our character and make us champion citizens of our school, community, and nation.

An action-packed moment in a league game.

Our Varsity Soccer Team Wins City Junior High Championship

Mr. Leroy Smith, Director of the Health Education Program in our Trenton public schools, presented the soccer trophy to Fred Seefelt, who, in behalf of the team, presented it to Miss Brilliantine and Junior One.

Our Varsity Soccer Team successfully completed the 1952 season with a record of 3 wins, 2 ties and no losses to become the city-wide Junior High School Soccer League Champions.

The most exciting games of the season were played against the Junior Three team, fighting hard to retain its last year's title. But our boys, with good defense work and with the true sportsmanship and school spirit that makes us so proud of all of our school teams, came through for Junior One.

Congratulations, boys, to you and to your fine coach, Mr. Lee, for a job well done.

Our Varsity Basketball Team Takes Second Place

The action-packed playing of our top-flight Basketball Team thrilled every Junior One booster this season whenever the Brown and Gold took to the boards as visitors or on the home court. Although our boys finished second in the Junior High School competition, they deserved the credit given to champions for their fine sportsmanship and excellent record of 11 wins and 3 losses.

Congratulations, boys, to you and to your fine coach, Mr. Price, for a successful and exciting season that showed perfect teamwork and a true school spirit of which everyone in Junior One can be proud.
