Leaders Change Sport Nite Theme

"Highlights of American History" is the newly-selected theme for Sport Nite of 1943. A board of teachers and the two team captains decided that this would offer more opportunities than the previously favored, "holidays," without making drastic changes in plans already under way.

Marching this year will be considerably expanded. In former years audiences complained that this part of the program was over too quickly to be really appreciated. As a result, Novelty has been cut out of the schedule entirely to give more time for marching, and Novelty chairmen have become co-chairmen, with the girls already chosen to head marching.

Instead of coming in together in the usual way, members of the two teams will enter separately, the Reds being scheduled first on the program. Another big change is the omission this year of Originality. In its place will be Victory Exercises, something new, designed to keep in step with the times. Originality chairmen automatically become heads of this group.

About twenty girls are under consideration in the choice of mistress of ceremonies. LeRoy Smith, head of the physical education department feels that the selection is important enough to rate as much time and care as possible. The field must first be narrowed down to three girls, who will then take voice tests. One will receive the coveted title, while the other two will be flag bearers.

Janice Falk

Sport Nite Heads Pick Janice Falk

Former Red Team Member Will Direct Ceremonies;
Plans Progress Rapidly

Preparations for Sport Nite, March 24, 25 and 26 moved rapidly ahead when Janice Falk was elected mistress of ceremonies and a dance was planned for tomorrow night to raise funds for costumes.

Delores Quinn was elected Miss America; Virginia Blakeslee, Miss Trenton High; Jean Morley, Black team flagbearer, and Stephanie Wszulek, Red team flagbearer. An innovation of having two WAACS and two WAVES escort the mistress of ceremonies and Miss America will be instituted. Carol Willets and Madelyn Scott are the WAACS and Dorothy Cornish and Eleanor Mendrey the WAVES.

Competition for these positions was opened to any girl in the school who desired to enter. At the first and second meetings, the field was narrowed down considerable by a committee of teachers. It was finally narrowed down to Janice Falk and Virginia Blakeslee, and the captains, lieutenants and committee heads made the final choice.

Janice is a member of the Clonian Society and Hall Patrol, and, during her sophomore year, a member of the Creative Writing Club. Last year she was in Red tap and head of Red publicity.

The first annual Trenton High School Sport Nite dance will cost fifty-five cents, drag or stag, and will be held in the main gymnasium. If the plan proves successful, it will be included in upcoming years.

High School Dance Benefits 'Sport Nite'

For the benefit of the annual Girls' "Sport Nite" of the Central High School, the annual Sport Nite dance was held last Friday in the high school gymnasium with the women of the physical education department acting as chaperones. All of the proceeds will be needed to defray the cost of costumes and scenery for the coming extravaganza.

The girls of the Red and Black teams competed for credit given to the team which sold the highest number of tickets. The Trenton High Swing Band furnished the music. Additional entertainment was supplied by both teams, with prizes for specialty dances.

Janice Falk will be mistress of ceremonies this year. The captains are Marjorie Case, Black team, and Olivia de Pastina, Red team. The dance committees were as follows: Black ticket committee, Sue Hirsch; Red ticket committee, Adda Steward; Black refreshments, Gerry Dodds; Red refreshments, Stephanie Wszolek; Black entertainment, Jean Brizell and Kay Dilts; Red entertainment, Anna Cracker and Pauline Dick, and check room, Lorraine Banke, and Midge Shepherd.

Trenton High's swing band is under the direction of Fred Hatrak and Art Roumanis, assisted by Allen B. Dakin of the faculty. The band has been playing for noon-time dancing and recently provided the music for a sport night benefit dance. It has also given several auditorium programs. The members of the band are as follows: Mickey Batala, Art Roumanis, Len Millner, Bucky Ropeik, Al Cocula, Joe Dee, Vince Falone, Mat Tommarro, Guy Gunther, Vic Bailey, Warren Nutt and Fred Hatrak.

The Costume Club is helping the school by making costumes for the senior play and Sports Nite. The girls have also been collecting pictures of the various costumes of the ages for scrapbooks. They believe that these will aid them in designing garments suitable for the various characters. Miss Hannah Foster, club supervisor, is assisted by Claire Dooling, Lucille Perry and Betty Nevius, club officers, in planning and supervising the work.

Ninth Sport Nite Differs Greatly From First Production In 1935

This year the ninth annual Sport Nite, which is to be presented on March 24, 25 and 26, varies greatly from the first one presented on April 12, 1935. A glance at the program reveals some activities which have now disappeared, only to be replaced by others.

Costumes in the earliest performances were "gym" suits with some added accessories in keeping with the dance or activity. There was no general theme until the year 1939. For several years, tumbling, pyramids and stunts were added attractions, but in place of them there now are games and races.

Other events included in the first presentation were tap and novelty dances, cheers and songs and a victory song sung to the winners by the losing team. The Red team proved to be the victors.

One of the greatest changes made for the second annual Sport Nite was its presentation on two nights. Another new item was the originality number, which is not included in this year's program. Still another innovation was the grand march, which corresponds to the finale.

Sport Nite became so popular that the third annual event was held on three nights. Hockey and rhythemics were the new numbers. The prelude was introduced in the fourth Sport Nite when Miss Eleanor Keating became a teacher at T.H.S.

Two big additions to the fifth annual event were the theme songs and ballet. At the close of the sixth annual Sport Nite, the Blacks won a total of three years and the Reds also won three years. The Blacks won the seventh Sport Nite and the Reds the eighth.

This year an obstacle race will replace last year's basketball relay, and victory exercises will replace the novelty dances.
